PROJECTS

SQL/Excel Automation

Feb 2022

- Created a Python script that automates the creation of Excel sheets from an SQL database and another script to copy from worksheet to worksheet
- Copy script selectively copies rows and columns from one worksheet to another without needing to access database to simulate client-side privileges
- Both made efficient by writing from application to application without storing any data in the program during run time

Personal Website

Dec 2021

- Advanced knowledge of HTML and CSS gained from building website from scratch without third-party applications or frameworks
- Made accessible by implementing media queries to accommodate both computers and mobile devices
- Created responsive and aesthetic webpage using JavaScript and CSS animations that brought it to life
